GOLD PRICE AND PURCHASING POWER DEVELOPMENT SINCE THE YEAR 1500

The blue line is the gold index in British pounds (1930=100)

The red line represents the gold purchasing power index (1930=100)

The green line is the wholesale price index in British pounds (1930=100)

It can be seen that gold has held its purchasing power - with many fluctuations to be sure - well over time.

"Extremism certainly sounds bad, and governments often try to make it sound worse by using the word terrorism in the same sentence. But the word has little meaning. There is no doctrine called extremism.

When tyrants speak of extremists, they just mean people who are not in the mainstream – as the tyrants themselves are defining that mainstream at that particular moment."

Timothy Snyder

"None are more hopelessly enslaved than those who falsely believe they are free."

Johann Wolfgang von Goethe
