If the opinion is right, they are deprived of the opportunity of exchanging error for truth: if wrong, they lose, what is almost as great a benefit, the clearer perception and livelier impression of truth, produced by its collision with error.”

Macroeconomic global SWOT analysis SWOT: Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, Threats

- Strengths

Technological progress (artificial intelligence, robots, energy storage, alternative energies, pharmaceuticals, 3D printers) Internet - faster global exchange of knowledge, acceleration of technological progress
Theoretical models for a meaningful social and economic structure are available (liberalism, capitalism) only need to be implemented.

- Threats

Volcanic eruptions, earthquakes, other natural disasters, Wars / Civil Wars
Protectionism, tariffs, restriction of international trade
Credit defaults (China, banks, Italy...) with rising interest rates
Decay of the Euro with corresponding turbulences
Uncontrollable migration of peoples
«Black Swans» in general

- Weaknesses

High government and private sector debt
Interventionist states (welfare state, overregulation, redistribution, basic socialist ideas), increasing interventionism, e.g. in Germany
Necessary reforms in many countries are not taking place (e.g. Southern Europe)

Lack of integration of foreigners in Europe (Germany, France...) with corresponding risks of social unrest
Pension systems often underfunded

- Opportunities

Peace (dividend) - Korea, Iran, Syria, Ukraine, Africa
Problems of energy storage technology are solved
Economic growth, rising corporate profits
Opportunities of globalization
Liberalism / Capitalism (if ideology were to become more widespread), the result would be a major increase in international prosperity in the long term

Up until now, the world has recovered again and again even after very major crises and in the long term, share prices, for example, have always risen. Gold has maintained its value over time. From the investor's perspective, this means that one should buy after a major price slump and view the low prices then available as an entry opportunity. In order to have capital to get in at this time, you should never be over-invested - even if you are currently extremely positive about the future. And one should also see the chances of speculating for falling prices at the right time or hedging oneself with hedge positions.

"If wars can be started by lies, they can be stopped by truth." Julian Assange

"The only freedom which deserves the name, is that of pursuing our own good in our own way, so long as we do not attempt to deprive others of theirs, or impede their efforts to obtain it."
John Stuart Mill, On Liberty

"I know not what others may choose but, as for me, give me liberty or give me death. I know of no way of judging the future but by the past. For my part, whatever anguish of spirit it may cost, I am willing to know the whole truth, to know the worst and provide for it."
Patrick Henry (1736-1799)

“Below and beneath the economic harm done by this redistributive socialism will be moral decay.

The financial disincentive to work stokes a disinclination to fend for oneself, to be self-reliant, upstanding, and (in its best sense) proud. People who look after themselves, who see opportunities rather than a dead-end in front of them, and who take steps to improve their lot and the lot of their dependents are a happier, more fulfilled people.

Socialism is not just ruin camouflaged as equality. It is despair wrapped up in the rhetoric of hope.”

Hugo Gurdon

Another Blast From the Past — Former CIA Director Mike Morrell Confirms I Was Right

<https://sonar21.com/another-blast-from-the-past-former-cia-director-mike-morrell-confirms-i-was-right/>

“Since in the age of the internet we are all publishers, each of us bears some private responsibility for the public’s sense of truth.

If we are serious about seeking the facts, we can each make a small revolution in the way the internet works.

If you are verifying information for yourself, you will not send on fake news to others.

If you choose to follow reporters whom you have reason to trust, you can also transmit what they have learned to others. If you retweet only the work of humans who have followed journalistic protocols, you are less likely to debase your brain interacting with bots and trolls. We do not see the minds that we hurt when we publish falsehoods, but that does not mean we do no harm...

If we can avoid doing violence to the minds of unseen others on the internet, others will learn to do the same. And then perhaps our internet traffic will cease to look like one great, bloody accident.”

Timothy Snyder
